Rufus Rastus in Dixie, played to a good house last night. The company carries one of the best bands ever heard in Vinita and besides the show is in keeping with the band.

The following sad tale is clipped from the columns of the Tangler Citizen this week: Miss Esther Laubach had this misfortune to get her finger in the press this week and it was sadly crushed, but the brave girl would not cry till she was alone. It is supposed that she cried because the crushing was not done by a loving hand.

A SOCIETY EVENT

The Milford-Amundson Reception a Most Brilliant Affair.

Society in Vinita was given an innovation this afternoon by Mrs. Dr. O. C. Amundson and Mrs. M. E. Milford, who lavishly entertained at the beautiful Milford home on South Smith street, from 4 to 5 o'clock. Invitations were sent out to the society folk of the city, and women bedecked in beautiful gowns began to arrive at the appointed hour, and when the time for the festivities to begin arrived the throng presented a beautiful sight. It was a social event in which the guests were invited to participate, and each vied with the other in seeing that it was a complete success.

Little Misses Helan Darrough and Lucile Milford, gowned in white, received the guests at the door and ushered them into the reception room, which was banked with smilax and cream-colored carnations. The guests were escorted into the receiving room, which was daintily decorated in green and white, where they were most cordially received by Mesdames M. E. Milford, O. C. Amundson, J. E. Pershing, J. W. Orr, Oliver Bagby, R. J. Wright, J. B. Turner and C. C. Roberts. After the usual preliminaries to like social functions, the guests were summoned to the dining room, where they were graciously met by Mesdames J. R. Scott, Seymour Jones, John Swain and G. N. Bebout. The dining room was elaborately decorated with smilax, ferns and wild flowers, and if the reporter is capable of judging, the effect was perfect and harmonious. The chandeliers were festooned with red and the rays of the lights shed a beautiful effect on the surroundings. The menu consisted of sandwiches, coffee, salads and mint wafer daintily served on platters to each guest.

During the entire evening the sweet strains of music from the piano and violin could be heard above the merry making of the guests, the music being furnished by Miss Louise Graper and Mr. Cary Caldwell, who are well known in Vinita musical circles.

Following is a list of those who attended.

Mesdames L. F. Parker, C. A. Davidson, E. B. Davidson, Emmet Rae, N. P. Johnson, Ewing Halsell, Wm. Coley, R. I. Blakeney, W. P. Thompson, W. H. Kornegay, A. L. Churchill, J. H. Butler, P. W. IN THE HOME ELECTRICITY has Revolutionized the work, greatly lightening the labor of the Housekeeper. She may have an Electric Fan near the Ironing board with no fear of cooling the iron. The current which keeps her cool, keeps the iron hot. She may work away all day, sitting down if she chooses, with no journeyings to the hot stove to change irons. One iron will do it all, from a lace collar to a damask table cloth. A steady, even heat, and no scorching of delicate fabrics with too hot an implement. Ask for one on trial. We will do the rest.
